Write It Right With your arm, write each spelling word I say in the air. Then spell it aloud. We can write each word on a piece of paper.

Dear Family Member:

I'm reading A Tiger Cub Grows Up this week. We are reviewing how to compare and contrast. I compare how things are alike. I contrast how things are different. In this story, I am reading how a tiger cub and a grown-up tiger are alike and different. Little Tara, the tiger cub, is nervous when taking her first bath. Grown-up tigers love to jump into the water and swim.

This Week's Skills

Comprehension: compare and contrast

Phonics: sound of aw and au as in pawn and pause

Spelling: words with aw and au

Name _____

Look What Paul Saw!

Paul went to the circus! Look at the clowns he saw. Let's talk about how the clowns are alike and different as we answer the questions on the next page.

© Macmillan/McGraw-Hill

How are the clowns alike?

- What are they both doing?
- What is around their necks?
- What shape is on their suits?
- How else are they alike?

How are the clowns different?

- What shapes are their eyes?
- Do they have buttons on their suits?
- What size are their feet?
- How else are they different?

Now color the clowns to make them look different.

Queridos familiares:

Estoy leyendo A Tiger Cub Grows Up esta semana. Estamos repasando cómo comparar y contrastar. Comparo cómo las cosas son parecidas y contrasto cómo son diferentes. En este cuento, estoy leyendo cómo una cachorrita de tigre y un tigre adulto son parecidos y diferentes. Little Tara, la cachorrita de tigre, se pone nerviosa cuando toma su primer baño. En cambio, a los tigres adultos les encanta tirarse al agua y nadar.
