I Think Let's try to make up opinions about things, using the words above.

SPELLING WORDS

tries tried trying dries dried drying hurries hurried hurrying studies studied studying plays played playing

Y Am I Happy? I'm going to write down the base words of these spelling words: try, dry, hurry, study, and play. Then I'll ask you to spell the words adding s, ed, and ing. Can you do it? You can turn the table and ask me to add the endings.

Dear Family Member:

We're reading "A Carousel of Dreams." It's an article about carousels. The writer says that one carousel is the most fantastic in the nation. That's just his opinion—it can't be proved. There are facts, too. For a park in New York City, kids' drawings were used to make the animals on the carousel.

This Week's Skills

Comprehension: fact and opinion

Vocabulary: possessives, such as the boy's bike

Spelling/Phonics: words which change y to i, such as cherry to cherries

¿Por qué estoy feliz? Voy a escribir las palabras base de estas palabras de ortografía: try, dry, hurry, study y play. Luego, te voy a pedir que deleetrees las palabras agregando las terminaciones s, ed y ing. ¿Puedes hacerlo? Puedes invertir papeles conmigo y pedirme que yo agregue las terminaciones.

Queridos familiares:

Estamos leyendo A Carousel of Dreams. Es un artículo acerca de los carruseles. El escritor dice que un carrusel en especial es el más fantástico de la nación. Eso es sólo una opinión ya que no se puede comprobar. También hay hechos. Para un parque en la ciudad de Nueva York fueron usados dibujos de niños para hacer los animales en el carrusel.

Destrezas de la semana

Comprensión: hecho y opinión

Vocabulario: posesivos como the boy's bike
