er, ar, or or? All the spelling words this week have the same ending sound, but the sounds are spelled differently. I'll write the spelling words, leaving off the last two letters of each word. You can write in the correct ending. We'll go over your words together.

Dear Family Member:

This week we're reading Me and Uncle Romie. It's about a boy named James who goes to spend the summer with his aunt and uncle in New York City. When James meets his aunt, I can tell by all the places she takes him and from the things she says that she is a nice woman. I don't know anything about Uncle Romie yet, but I'm sure in a while what he says and does will tell me what kind of man he is.

This Week's Skills

Comprehension: character

Vocabulary: description

Spelling/Phonics: pronouncing er, ar, and or at the end of words

Name _____

Dear Diary

Suppose you are in a new place with a person you do not know. Let's read about each location and the person you're going to be there with. We can make up that character. What kind of person is this? How does he or she show that? What would she do? What would he say?

You've been chosen to join a group of students on a trip to a Central American rain forest. You'll spend your summer exploring the plants and animals that live there. Mr. Tanner will be your leader. When you get to the forest you are amazed at how green and beautiful it is. However, it rains every day, and soon you and everything you own are damp. You complain to Mr. Tanner.

You've loved dinosaurs your entire life, so when you're invited on a summer dinosaur dig, you jump at the chance. You are with a small group of paleontologists in a desert, and you share a tent with two other young people. It is very hot and you tire easily. You carefully dig hour after hour, but find nothing.

¿Cómo terminan? Aunque todas las palabras de ortografía de esta semana tienen el mismo sonido final, ese sonido no se escribe igual. Voy a escribir todas las palabras de la lista, pero sin las últimas dos letras. Tú debes escribir la terminación apropiada. Revisaremos las palabras juntos.

Queridos familiares:

Esta semana estamos leyendo Me and Uncle Romie. Se trata de un niño llamado James que va a pasar el verano con su tía y su tío en la ciudad de Nueva York. Cuando James conoce a su tía, por los lugares adonde ella lo lleva y por lo que le dice, puedo ver que es una buena mujer. No sé nada sobre el tío Ramie todavía, pero con toda seguridad lo que él diga y haga me va a indicar qué clase de hombre es.

Querido diario

Supón que estás en un lugar nuevo con una persona que no conoces. Leamos sobre cada lugar y la persona con la que estás. Podemos crear ese personaje. ¿Qué clase de personas es? ¿Cómo lo demuestra? ¿Qué hace esa persona? ¿Qué dice?

er, ar oswa or ? Tout mo òtograf yo semèn sa a genyen menm son final, men son yo eple de fason diferan. Mwen pral ekri mo òtograf yo, m ap kite de dènye lèt nan chak mo. Ou ka ekri tèminezon ki kòrèk la. Nou pral repase mo w yo ansanm.

Chè manm fanmi :

Semèn sa a n ap li Me and Uncle Romie. Se yon istwa konsènan yon tigason ki rele James ki al pase sezon ete a avèk matant li ak tonton l nan vil Nouyòk. Lè James rankontre matant li, mwen ka wè li se yon fi ki janti akoz kote li menmen James ak bagay li di yo. Mwen poko konn anyen konsènan tonton Romie, men mwen sèten nan yon ti moman sa li pral di ak sa li pral fè pral fè m konnen ki kalite moun li ye.

Teknik pou semèn sa a

Konpreyansyon : pèsouaj

Vokabilè : deskripsyon

Òtograf/Fonik : pwononse er, ar ak or alafen mo yo
